554 F.Supp. 278 (1982) A. Bruce BULLOCK and Wife, Alice M. Bullock, Plaintiffs, v. UNITED STATES of America, Defendant. No. CIV 81-0130 PHX PGR. United States District Court, D. Arizona. December 16, 1982. Mark W. Heimer, Phoenix, Ariz., for plaintiffs. Robert V. Kerrigan, U.S. Atty., Phoenix, Ariz., for defendant. AMENDED ORDER ROBERT C. BROWNING, Chief Judge. This case is before the Court on the plaintiffs' Motion to Set Aside Judgment and for New Trial. The only issue raised by this motion is whether the Court should set aside the award of attorneys' fees, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 7430. For the reasons stated below, the plaintiffs' motion is granted. While this Court is aware of the new restrictions on the award of attorneys' fees in tax cases, plaintiffs' counsel is an attorney admitted to practice before this Court and in good standing with the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States and the State of Arizona. Counsel is also an officer in the state bar, and has fulfilled his responsibilities to the State Bar of Arizona. This case was referred to a United States Magistrate for hearing and decision and the recommendation was approved by the Court. The Court understands the new restrictions on the award of attorneys' fees in tax cases but does not find those restrictions applicable to counsel in this case. The factors that entered into the decision to award attorneys' fees in this case included the professional competence of plaintiffs' counsel and the reasonableness of the fee requested. It is clear that the decision to award attorneys' fees to a prevailing plaintiff in this Court is within the discretion of the trial judge and is not limited by the new restrictions on the award of attorneys' fees. The discretion of the judge is broad enough to grant attorneys' fees to the plaintiffs in this case. The final issue before the Court, then, is the amount of attorneys' fees that should be awarded plaintiffs. Plaintiffs' counsel has requested $279 an award of $12,865.00. This amount is based on 69.46 hours of legal work performed by one of plaintiffs' counsel and 19.36 hours of legal work performed by the other. The prevailing market rate for attorneys of like skill, experience and reputation as these attorneys is $50

Q: How to write URL-encoded data to a file I am trying to write to a log file but my file contains special characters like ô, é, î etc. I know that I can replace those special characters with their ASCII values but I want to avoid this. Instead, I want them to be written to a file without any changes. I am using the following code to do this: with open(logfile, 'w') as fout: fout.write('%f\ %s' % (logtime, str(query))) But this generates a file which contains the special characters for my ASCII values. Is there a way to do this? A: I would advise against using the old open() for this, as it will also interpret escapes. Instead, use open('file', 'w', encoding="utf-8"). If you want to encode your query string, you can do so like so: import urllib.parse import urllib.request import io query_string = 'some%élquery=string' query_array = query_string.split('=') query = urllib.parse.unquote_plus(query_array[1]) with io.open('file', 'w', encoding="utf-8") as fout: fout.write('%f\ %s' % (logtime, str(query))) As pointed out in the comments, this is also vulnerable to XSS injection attacks, so do encode your output where possible. -acr-11-119] using the published measurement techniques.[@b24-acr-11-119],[@b25-acr-11-119] We hypothesized that deep versus shallow breathing patterns would affect HR at load and that this might explain some of the previous results. To test this, we used our own anthropometric measurements to estimate upper and lower body FFM. We then calculated Pearson correlation coefficients between HR, deep and shallow breathing patterns, and FFM (kg) using the methods of a previous study.[@b8-acr-11-119] A correlation analysis revealed a weak positive correlation between deep breathing at load and the FFM of the lower body (right) (r=0.4) as well as the upper body
