Bit Odyssey is a free-to-play experimental VR action adventure in the mode of Half-Life and Left4Dead, where the player awakens in the middle of a crime-ridden metropolis to fight against fast-moving zombies and hostile citizens who want to tear the player to shreds. We're all about imagination, fun and exploration. Creating an immersion-friendly experience based on real gameplay requires a lot of focus and effort, but there is no reason to compromise what makes a good game. Immersion is key to creating a fun gameplay experience and we want to do right by our players to ensure this is the case. I release this app in the hope that it will raise enough funds in the summer of 2018 to allow the project to continue into full development. There are many concepts and features that I have planned for Graffiti Bombing. I have planned for these concepts, features and more to continue into full development into a boxed version that will make the game available worldwide to play in VR. I am happy to announce that the game will continue in Early Access beyond the initial goal of $5000. With no plans to charge any additional dollars in the future, I will work on adding in the features and adding in content until I can successfully launch the full version. If you are interested in what I have planned for future content and features for Graffiti Bombing, you can read more here: If you would like to support and help me reach my ultimate goal of full development, you can join the bitodyssey.com mailing list, and get regular updates from me and supporters of the project. Lastly, you can also support me with a donation here, if you would like to donate and have your name added to the virtual walls of fame as a token of appreciation: Until the full version is released, you can sign up to the Early Access list here to keep up to date on any further developments: Thanks for your time, and I hope to hear from you in the project! - Matt

DUNGEONS Cave World: This setting is new and brings RPG elements to the fantasy dungeon! Below the ground, you will find a large underground world filled with rain forest and mountains. This is populated by clod and goblin settlers. There are also the remnants of fallen empires the humans, dwarves, orcs, elves, etc. this world is destroyed by. Anime: This setting is a world used in Japanese anime. Humans and other life forms have obtained the capability to travel the universe thanks to the local telecommunications galaxy. From fantasy worlds, to science fiction, and even the reality of our own, they have discovered worlds and beings unknown to man. Many technology is based on the myths of gods and mythic creatures. Religion has seeped into the new world, where magic and technology coexist. And the people call themselves Animantics. Victorian: This setting is based on the real world of Victorian London and is provided by the classic table top RPG. This is where the city is full of monsters, traps, and criminals, not to mention the supernatural like the succubus and dracolisk! Many places have the abandoned and forgotten feel of Victorian London while others have an extra spook factor. Asian Fantasy: This setting is new and can be used for a Dragon or Ninja Universe. It is inspired by the Asian countries like China, Japan and India. From dragons to winged men, animals and insects to demons and other monsters. This world has the Aztec Empire and the Spiky Dragon is a near-mythical creature. Fantasy World: This world is new and focuses on the fantasy elements of it. Based on a classical fantasy setting. This world is populated by dwarves, elves, dragons, and all the flora and fauna they are surrounded by. From distant worlds and civilizations to other dimensions and even time. From the Milky Way to the nine planets. This world has a rich history and mythology, even though most humans are not aware of it! Unique: This setting is a combination of the above settings. This world also has an extra mystical and spooky feel. On top of that it is based on fantasy creatures that come from many mythological and real life

You awaken. How did you get here? A random event caused your character to awaken, and you are now simply a player character, following your dreams. You are aware that you are dreaming, yet you are uncertain of the exact details. You are in a strange land. The land seems to be a forest, with an abundance of tall trees and vines. It looks similar to the jungle in the Lost World. However, there are not any signs of civilization. In fact, the terrain feels incredibly alien. Even the night sky feels strange to you, and it's hard to focus on the immediate world around you. There is a small shrub nearby. You try to get a better look at it, but you cannot. The shrub suddenly collapses, and you are trapped in the thin crack left in its foliage. Something dark roams through the nearby trees. You hear something crunching through the leaves, but the sound is far off. There is something unseen in front of you, and you realize you cannot see it in the dark. You start to feel uneasy. You try to communicate to the imaginary dream-self of you. "Can you feel it?" Nothing. No response. You try to control your anxiety and try to focus on the nearby shrub. It looks like the shrub is a completely different one than the one that collapsed. It does not seem to have any power, and it does not seem to be doing anything. You can still feel that there is something nearby. Suddenly, a silhouette appears behind the shrub. You freeze. You do not know how to react. The entity steps through the crack in the shrub. You do not know how to react. The entity seems to be familiar with you. An old man, who appears to be a kindly grandfather-like figure. The appearance of his hair and beard are similar to the bearded old man that you saw in your earlier dreams. You try to think of what to say. It does not seem like the man in the dreams. The man only says two words to you. The man's voice is gentle. He seems to be pleading to you. "Who are you?" You look back at the grandfather. You begin to feel very uneasy. You feel the presence of something dangerous and unclear,

What's new:

Doug Flutie's Maximum Football 2020 is the first sequel to the NCAA Football video game series, NCAA Football 04. It was released on the PlayStation Portable in the United States on September 9, 2006. The game features the 2006 Ohio State University football season, with the first play on October 2, 2006, in the season-opener vs. Indiana, and over 640 players for the 47 OSU football players. Maximum's gameplay received mixed reception from critics, who criticized the game's artificial intelligence in long passes and struggled with the learning curve. Despite this, critics generally praised the game's presentation as well as Flutie's comeback season. Plot The title is derived from Doug Flutie's comeback season. The new and revamped Ohio State Buckeyes are 0-1 overall but all three of Flutie's statistics are over 110%. Then Ohio State upsets Michigan State in the Big Ten Championship Game. After that season, the team reunites and begins to work towards achieving 1-0-1 status. Flutie then declares, "after my season, I will enter the NHL, then hopefully the NFL — my ultimate dream." Attendance at the Big House game vs. Michigan slips to the lowest on record of 39,613 and the players are ecstatic. Although they score, the Ohio State defense gives up yards and points, and the Buckeyes end up losing. Ohio State then loses to Penn State in its regular season finale. Flutie then ends his efforts for this season and allows Ohio State to remain in the AP Poll at #10. Ohio State's season ends 0-2. The Buckeyes play the Penn State game with an injured Flutie, who tells Ohio State fans to "rise above" Ohio State's 0-2 season. Flutie ends the season with 10 wins, 3 losses, 2 ties, 271 passing yards, 19 TD passes, 596 rushing yards and 16 rushing TDs, 243 receiving yards and 10 receptions, and 12.9 QBR. Only Flutie still has the same number of complete games as the previous year, although in only one game against Boise State did he throw for over 300 yards. Flutie adds 34 tackles, 5 fumble recoveries, 3 INTs, 2 sacks, and a facemask penalty. Flutie then enters the 2006 NFL draft. A running joke in the game is that while on the field, Flutie will tell the players to run
